- In-house counsel

Aldrich & Bonnefin is pleased to invite you to attend our Webinar on the interplay between the Customer Identification Program (CIP) and Beneficial Ownership rules. Complying with these rules can still be somewhat difficult despite, or perhaps due to, numerous FAQs having been issued by FinCEN. While CIP has been around since 2003, the adoption of the Beneficial Ownership Rule has actually forced many financial institutions to rethink their approach to CIP.

There are still a number of questions that are raised by the rules. What are the differences between a financial institution's obligation to verify the identity of a customer as compared to verifying the identity of a beneficial owner? Is there a requirement to obtain an unexpired driver's license when opening an account for an existing customer? Is a new certificate of beneficial ownership required when a beneficial owner of a legal entity customer dies? These are just some of the issues that financial institutions encounter every day when opening accounts for customers or originating loans to borrowers.

During this Webinar we will cover the requirements of each rule as well as how the FAQs issued over the years continue to raise compliance concerns.

Highlighted areas will include:

- Requirements of CIP and Beneficial Ownership Rules
- What is an account?
 - * Are adding services considered a new account?
 - * Is renewal or modification of a loan a new account?
- Completion of Certificate of Beneficial Ownership form
- FinCEN CIP and beneficial owner FAQs
- Triggering events
- Treatment of property management accounts
- Formal trusts as beneficial owners
